

WHO'S YOUR JONATHAN?

Reference: miscellaneous Scripture
Pastor Larry Webb

Someone has suggested there are four classifications of friends:

- _____
... someone we interact with on an infrequent and more superficial basis
- _____ friends
... someone we have contact with more often than an acquaintance
- _____ friends
... someone we feel free to share more of ourselves with
- _____ friends
... someone we maintain close contact with even if geographical distance separates us; someone we have a transparent and authentic relationship with

The first characteristic of an intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend _____ for his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 18:1-4 (see screen)

The second characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend _____ his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 19:1-5 (see screen)

The third characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend has a _____ to _____ connection to his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 20:41-42 (see screen)

The fourth characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend is a constant _____ to his friend

Reference: I Samuel 23:16-17 (see screen)

CONCLUSION:

In this ancient friendship, Jonathon acted as a model friend to David; but, there is someone else who is the most authentic and true friend someone could ever have. His name is _____.

WHO'S YOUR JONATHAN?

Reference: miscellaneous Scripture
Pastor Larry Webb

Someone has suggested there are four classifications of friends:

- _____
... someone we interact with on an infrequent and more superficial basis
- _____ friends
... someone we have contact with more often than an acquaintance
- _____ friends
... someone we feel free to share more of ourselves with
- _____ friends
... someone we maintain close contact with even if geographical distance separates us; someone we have a transparent and authentic relationship with

The first characteristic of an intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend _____ for his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 18:1-4 (see screen)

The second characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend _____ his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 19:1-5 (see screen)

The third characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend has a _____ to _____ connection to his friend.

Reference: I Samuel 20:41-42 (see screen)

The fourth characteristic of intimate authentic friendship is that a true friend is a constant _____ to his friend

Reference: I Samuel 23:16-17 (see screen)

CONCLUSION:

In this ancient friendship, Jonathon acted as a model friend to David; but, there is someone else who is the most authentic and true friend someone could ever have. His name is _____.