Onesimus was a common slave name, and his name meant _____ and _____. True to his name Onesimus had earlier on been useful and profitable to his master Philemon; but, then in running away he became useless and unprofitable to him. Because he had become a Christian, Paul felt that if Onesimus returned to his master he could then become profitable to him again.

But there were four consequences Philemon would experience if he didn't forgive Onesimus and these are the same consequences we experience if we refuse to forgive:

One is that unforgiveness prevents emotional wounds from _____.
Reference: Psalms 147:3 (see screen)

Two is that unforgiveness causes _____ in the person who is unforgiving.
Reference: Hebrews 12:15 (see screen)

Three is that unforgiveness breaks our _____ with God.
Reference: I John chapter one

Four is that unforgiveness gives Satan _____ to our life.
Reference: II Corinthians 2:10 and 11 (see screen)
